Three 2026 rule changes make now the right time to register direct.

More shifts headed your way

The government's CCS RM6376 framework now caps agency markup at 15%, down from a 38% average. Schools are actively looking for a direct alternative — that means more shifts outside the agency system.

No umbrella company deductions

From 6 April 2026, the Finance Act 2025 moves PAYE liability for umbrella companies onto agencies — a cost many pass down to you. Work direct with schools through RecruitCrew and there's no umbrella company in the chain at all.

You're already ahead of the rules

From 1 October 2026, UK right-to-work checks widen to cover more gig-style working. RecruitCrew verifies this for every registered teacher and TA now, so you're compliant before it's mandatory everywhere.

Every month you wait is a month of shifts still running through a 38% agency markup. Joining the founding cohort now puts you first in line as schools switch over.

Fully compliant, so schools trust you on day one.

DBS-checked

Verified once via an umbrella body, valid across every school you work with.

Right-to-work verified

Digitally checked, in line with UK requirements for platforms like ours.

Self-employed & supported

Self-assessment made simple through our Tax Hub, built with our partner mraccountant.uk.

ICO registered

Your data is handled to UK data-protection standards.

FOUNDING-COHORT PRIORITY

Teachers and TAs who join our first intake get first access to shifts as schools come on board.

Spaces in the founding cohort are limited — the earlier you register, the earlier you're first in line when local shifts open up.
